

Fusion of the east and west

Jayanti Bhattacharya

Michael Braudy performing at the American Centre on Friday

The American Center, Kolkata played host to yet another interesting artist. On Friday evening the gliteratti of the city came together to listen to probably one of the finest violin players. MICHAEL BRAUDY, who has trained in both western and Indian music put up an excellent performance of both form of music.

While the first half of the show was dedicated to the western form it was the eastern ragas that evoked appreciation. Among the accompanist MALABIKA DUTT (piano), BIDYUT CHATTERJEE (tabla), MAITRAYEE PRAMANIK (tanpura).