HANDOUT

Violinist Michael Braudy will offer “Music for a Winter Afternoon” on Sunday at St. Luke’s Church.

The Gingerbread Players of St. Luke’s Church in Forest Hills Gardens present “Music for a Winter Afternoon” featuring violinist Michael Braudy on Sunday at 3 p.m.

St. Luke’s is located at 85 Greenway South.

Michael, who describes himself as “a violinist who specializes in Western classical and Celtic music and the music of India,” often plays at the bedside in health care facilities

“From 2001 to 2003, I played at Long Island College Hospital, in Brooklyn, at the bedside of many patients on the oncology floor, as well as for children in the out-patient room, and for nurses and doctors. Most recently for a friend who had brain surgery, at the Rusk Institute,” he said.

His work is featured on children’s CD’s produced in Argentina by Mariela Chintalo and in Germany by Tato Gomez.

Admission to the concert is $12, $10 for students and seniors. For more information and reservations, call (718) 268-7772; gingerbreadplayers.org. Michael’s website is michaelbraudy.com.

Forest Hills Gardens is a privately owned community. Please pick up a parking pass at the church in advance.
